

Working with seniors of all abilities to create, rehearse and perform short, original musicals.

TimeSlips™

Everyone has a part to play!

Stage Right offers interactive workshops with seniors of all abilities, in which participants work together to create short original musicals. Over the course of three visits, seniors become the playwrights, lyricists, choreographers, and performers.

Our workshops use techniques that are safe for all abilities and focus on the present moment, allowing seniors with memory loss to contribute equally to those without.

“ Everyone got to do what they could do and there were no judgements. Everyone enjoyed them-selves because of it.”

— ANNETTE

“ It made me feel like I am alive... I can do some-thing. It is a marvelous idea, it lets people get out of their shell.”

— ROSEMARIE

What to Expect

Each workshop features three facilitators; one lead storytelling facilitator, a movement coordinator, and a music director. Using multiple art forms we are able to engage all participants in different ways and highlight their strengths in doing so.

DAY 1 We work with residents to create the setting, main characters, and songs for their musical.

DAY 2 We review the music and movement created on the first day, and proceed to devise the plot.

DAY 3 Showtime! On the final day we rehearse and perform the original musical to the staff, family members, and other residents.
